HEIDERICH

Crisis & issues management

Heiderich is a cross-border consultancy and coaching firm specialized in crisis & issues management

Heiderich is one of the European independent leaders in issues and crisis management. The firm gained its reputation thanks to its ability to anticipate the evolution of the public, to merge analysis data with the field and to its rapid response force in highly distressed crisis situations.

We handle preparation, coaching, tutoring, media training, crisis simulation, we respond to real-life crises in complex, difficult and sensitive situations or when the audience objects with the official statements, as well as in post-crisis and post-conflict image reconstruction.

Planning and crisis management

Heiderich is behind the methods of the crisis management plan implementations in heterogenic environments.

We have also developed the Large-Scale Crisis Management System (LSCMS) approach of large-scale crisis management, along with predictive analysis methods developed by Deloitte. At the same time, in order to respond to auditing demands and prompt crisis management plan implementation, we have developed the Fast Crisis Response Management (FCRM) method.
